Christ House offers transitional housing to 14 homeless men. Its recently renovated facilities afford a safe, clean, and welcoming environment to single men in need of a place to stay while they improve their lives. Case management is available during daytime and group sessions are available during evening hours.

Each week, clients participate in at least one hour of intensive case management until they exit to independent housing. Clients also receive financial literacy training and resume, job search, interviewing and professional development coaching.

The program also offers weekly psychological counseling (both individual and group therapy) and life skills training to support the long-term personal resilience and financial independence of clients.

Christ House also provides shower and laundry facilities to residents.
